Cirina Catania, Founder/Lead Creative, The Catania Group

BIOGRAPHY

Cirina Catania is the founder and lead creative of The Catania Group and one of the original co-founders of the Sundance Film Festival. The former VP of United Artists has written/directed/produced and/or marketed hundreds of feature length films, TV series, music videos and documentaries. Today, she donates her time and creative talent to build awareness of the challenges and successes of physically and mentally disabled military personnel and the people who reach out and assist them in reentering the world they left behind to serve their country.
